GETTING YOUR DAILY BREAD

Rev Ian Snares

At our harvest services we looked at one of the most famous – and controversial – things that Jesus said - I am the bread of life (John 6 v35). In this short phrase he uses the words 'I AM', the name Moses was told to use when asked who God is. In doing so Jesus is claiming to be God, the unique claim at the heart of the Christian faith and what ultimately led him to be crucified by those who couldn't recognise or accept the truth of who he is.

Jesus also told his listeners that only he gives life and sustenance that's so much more than physical food and drink. He promises 'Whoever comes to me will never go hungry, and whoever believes in me will never be thirsty.' What he's talking about is that only he gives meaning to and purpose in life. When we choose to follow him, he promises to give us all we need. We probably will still go through tough and challenging times, but we do so knowing that he is with us and will give us all we need. This bread never runs out; indeed, for his followers he promises an eternity with him - an eternity that starts today!

One of the questions I get asked is 'how do I keep going in my faith?'. The answer I always give is to make time to spend with God each day. I find that life gets so busy that unless I make this a priority it just slips away; it's something you have to be really intentional in doing.

I'd always recommend taking time first thing each day to worship, pray and read the Bible. This might be something you are very used to doing; many Christians have developed a pattern that often gets called a 'quiet time'. There are many ways of spending time with God and it's important to find what works for you.

For many years, Jo and I have both read through the Bible each year. Jo uses a printed Bible that's divided into 365 days but I've found the Bible in One Year app from Alpha to be fantastic. As well as an app on your phone, you can receive a daily email or look up the website. It's given me a much better understanding of the whole Bible and each day there's something that speaks to me. The short prayers lead my praying and it sets me up to let God guide and help me through the day.

Reading the whole Bible in a year is quite a commitment so don't worry, there are other helpful resources. Many friends of mine love using Lectio 365, which comes from the 24/7 Prayer movement. Others use UCB's free Word for Today notes, which can be read online or you can sign up to receive by email or post. And there are many other daily reading notes from CWR, Scripture Union and others.

So please make sure you are getting your daily bread! Jesus promises us bread that will never run out, but we must do our part to make sure we receive it.

Ian

PARISH NURSE

Jan Zriel

Greetings Trinity family!

I hope you are all keeping fit and well as the nights draw. Temperatures are definitely dropping now in the mornings and evenings, but I hope you've been able to get out and enjoy the sunny Autumn days we've been having.

With energy prices escalating I thought I would write about keeping warm and well this Winter. Please let me know if you are struggling with energy costs and I will do my best to signpost you to services who may be able to offer advice.

Don't forget to have your flu and Covid boosters! If you are struggling to find transport to take you to the nearest vaccination centre let me know and I will try to find you a lift. Mendip Community Transport runs a hospital car service. The price is reasonable, and if you also have a bus pass you will get an additional discount if your journey starts after 09:30. They are always looking for volunteer drivers too. Morag who runs the service can be contacted on 07596591391 for more information, and is really helpful.

Keeping well this winter

Changes to our bodies as we get older mean that cold weather and winter bugs affect us more than they used to. As we age, our immune systems become weaker and less able to fight off viruses. We gradually lose the muscle mass that helps us keep warm and moving about. And the cold makes health conditions harder to manage – it can even affect our hearts and circulation.

The good news is that there's lots we can do to help keep ourselves well in winter.

- Keep moving
- Eat well
- Get your winter vaccinations, even if you're fighting fit
- Make sure your home is warm enough
- Stop the spread of germs
- Wrap up well and stay stocked up

The cold puts more pressure on our hearts and circulation. The cold can increase the risk of a stroke or heart attack, as well as hypothermia. If you suspect yourself, or someone else, is experiencing any of these, call 999 (or 112 from a mobile) immediately.

For a stroke, think FAST:

F – is the face drooping on one side?

A – can the person raise both arms and keep them there?

S – is speech slurred?

T – time to call 999 if you spot any one of these signs.

Many people experience severe chest pain during a heart attack – but the symptoms can be different for different people. Hypothermia is a medical emergency, just like a stroke or a heart attack.

Other news

The Bereavement Journey course was well attended, and the feedback I received confirmed that those who came found it really helpful to connect with others suffering from a loss through death, or loss of a job, lifestyle or relationship. I will be rerunning the course in the New Year (date to be confirmed).

Thankyou Wendy and Ian for your continual attendance at the course, and Val Howell too! I really appreciate your help.

The next podiatry drop in is on 10th November from 1:30 in Trinity Hall (£5) Caroline is a qualified podiatrist and usually charges £40 per treatment, but kindly gives us a reduced rate of £20. Money has been donated by Rotary and Lions club Frome, but I will need to source additional funding in the New Year. If you would like to donate to this really important community outreach, please let our vicar Ian know. Thankyou!

I'll be visiting Trinity First School at the beginning of November to chat to the children about my role here at Trinity, which I'm looking forward too! I'm hoping to visit monthly.

And please let me know if you would like a visit following illness or surgery, and either myself or Sue Martin (pastoral care) will do our best to support you.

Blessings!

CALLED TO WALK THE WAY OF THE CROSS

Rt Revd Michael Beasley, Bishop of Bath and Wells

As I prepare to be installed as the 80th Bishop of Bath and Wells on the 12 November, I have been reading and re-reading the charge given to me by the Archbishop of Canterbury when I was legally confirmed as bishop back in June. The charge can be found on the diocesan website. Please do take a look at what it says.

The charge is terrifying. It calls me to walk the way of the cross. It urges me to rely not on my own strength, but on that provided by the Lord. The charge asks me to 'speak out on behalf of the voiceless, and for the rights of all who are vulnerable' (Proverbs 3:18). It reminds me that I am to be the shepherd of the flock entrusted to me. It also includes calls to be committed to the highest standards of safeguarding and care of the environment.

Reading my charge makes me wonder whether I have been invited to impersonate the Archangel Gabriel! Thankfully it also includes words which act to make the whole thing possible. Chief among these is this phrase: I am called to 'build a church where each stone is valued'. Drawing on the writings of the First Letter of Peter (see Chapter 2), the charge calls me to remember that I'm not doing this all alone. We are doing it all together.

I've already been discovering this as I've travelled around Somerset attending worship in different churches and meeting new clergy colleagues. The installation will see people gather from across the county, committing together to our vision of 'Living and Telling the Story of Jesus'. Undertaking that task with authenticity and integrity is the greatest charge of all. It's one that I'm looking forward to sharing with you.

Every blessing

Bishop Michael

MOTHERS' UNION

Susan Clark

November is the month when the Mothers' Union joins in with 'The United Nations 16 Days of Activism against Gender-Based violence and Abuse' calling for an end to violence and abuse around the world. It runs from 25th November (which is the International Day for the Elimination of Violence against Women) until 10th December (International Human Rights Day). Members have a special prayer diary to use with a prayer for each day. 1 in 3 women experience physical or sexual violation in their lifetime, most frequently by an intimate partner (UN).

Dame Julie Walters is the present patron of Women's Aid and she said she was really pleased to hear that Mothers' Union was one of the first charities to sign up to the campaign and support their work as they work towards a world without domestic abuse. We are asked to hold a minute's silence at 1.03pm on 26th November reflecting on the 1-3 who suffer from abuse.

Beckington Mothers' Union will be leading the regular monthly service and prayers at Wells Cathedral on Thursday 20th October when we shall also be reflecting on this subject.

We are looking forward to welcoming Gay Curtis to our November meeting on Wednesday 2nd November at 2pm at Lah's Place, Beckington. She is our Diocesan Overseas Representative and will bring us news of all the dioceses which Bath & Wells has contacts with around the world.

Please contact Mary Earle (catherineearle9@gmail.com) or Susan Clark (csusan763@gmail.com) for more information.

MISSIONS

Stephen & Irene Tucker (Language Mapping Team, Wycliff Bible Translators)

Howdy Y'All. We are newly returned from Dallas, Texas, USA so this is really an appropriate way to greet you. (Speak to Stephen if you want to know how to pronounce the greeting properly!)

In September we spent two weeks in Dallas attending meetings of the Language Mapping team. This was the first time in three years that we had been able to meet in person as a team. For two members of the team (Mitchell and Mark), we had only seen video pictures of them over the internet. There were lots of jokes about people actually having legs and how tall Mitchell is. The meetings went well and were deemed a success which is a good thing. For Irene it was a bittersweet experience because those are the last in-person team meetings that she is likely to attend. It was sad for her to say 'goodbye' to colleagues, one of whom we have been working with since 1997.

One exciting thing is that new publishing opportunities are finally opening up for the mapping information that we have been collecting for so many years. Plans are being put in place for it to be more widely shared within the worldwide Bible translation community. That has been Irene's, previously unattainable, dream over many years. She is very happy that this is happening but also rather envious because, for the most part, in her new role as Consultant, she will be watching from the sidelines and simply cheering on the rest of the team. Do pray for Matt, Shauna and Esther as they head up the task and take on the challenges that this new opportunity presents.

One of the results of all this is that Shauna, to whom Stephen is handing over his work, is much too busy to spend time on training with him. She needs your prayers too, that God will raise up more financial partners for her so that she can become a fully-fledged member of the team.

We had a happy time in Dallas – it wasn't all work. After the meetings, we spent a week up in Canada visiting Irene's cousin Steve and his wife in the Yukon. They live in a small village named Haines Junction that is on the Alaska Highway near the mountains of the Kluane National Park. The geographer in Irene was in seventh heaven there! She got to see snowy mountains, glaciers, lakes and endless pine forests. Sadly we missed out on the bears and moose: they were hiding deep in the forests.

All our travels went well, thank you for your prayers.

As we wrote last time, Irene did retire in June. She spent two months doing her own thing and then re-joined the team part-time as Senior Consultant. She will be working one day a week attempting to make the best use of her years of experience to give guidance about any mapping matters that she is asked about. Some of that will be spent with Mitchell, as before, but this time helping him to make Ethnologue maps with the new mapping software. As before she continues to spend quite a lot of time and energy organising and providing care for her mother. Mother is nearly 95 and living in her own home here in Frome.

Stephen still hopes to retire in the near future but quite when is still in doubt given how little time Shauna gets to spend with him on training. He still has a lot of computer software that is valuable to the mapping team to hand over to her.

Thank God that

- the team meetings went well
- our travels were smooth and everything went to plan
- Irene's mum was well cared for while we were away

Please pray that

- Stephen's hand-over to Shauna continues to go well
- Irene will be happy in retirement
- the team will be successful in all the new ventures that are coming their way

ECO CHURCH

Maggie Hancock

Heavenly Father, thank you for the life you gave us, the people you gave us to share our lives with, and the earth we live on which sustains us. In our walk with you, help us discover that we are humans living with each other and not against each other. Help us to live up to our responsibilities for your creation.

Amen.

Walter Brueggeman

A year after all the fanfare of COP 26 in Glasgow we are approaching Cop 27, to be held in early November in Egypt. In the meantime, Climate and Creation action seems to have been pushed to the back-burner by everything else that is going on in the world, including Ukraine, rising food and fuel costs, mortgages and inflation. Do you feel that these are filling your consciousness at the moment? The Rev Dr Daniel Button, Director of the Gateway Theological College in Gloucester puts it so much better than I could: 'Ironically, all of these existential threats are directly related to climate change – yet the issue of climate change has dropped right back into obscurity. We're so focused on our dinner burning that we've forgotten the house is on fire'.

So, do you care about Creation? Are you worried about what we are doing to our world? As Christians we have a responsibility to live lightly amidst the wonder of God's Creation and, having received the Silver Eco Church Award from A Rocha, it is important to move Holy Trinity's eco work forward. As well as preaching and teaching, and thinking about where we source our supplies, food and drink from for church use, this will involve attention to the churchyard, especially the development of the eco-patch which has been established.

One of the huge benefits of engaging with eco work in recent years has been that it has provided opportunities to work alongside all ages and other local churches in Frome and the Town Council to play our part in generating a greener perspective across the community.

Now John and I feel we need to hand this work on to others. The foundations have been laid and our journey is underway but there is still much to do as we follow God's calling. We believe in a God who is unchanging, the same yesterday, today and forever, and it is with this framing that we celebrate God's Creation and are prompted to act to protect it. I will stop writing articles after this edition of the magazine, so if writing is your gift, perhaps this is something you would consider, alternating with John.

If Creation is near to your heart, please pray about whether God is calling you to contribute to this ministry. If you have things that need clarifying both John and I are more than happy to talk you through where we are now and possible next steps.

Maggie Hancock

If you feel this could be your next step, please contact either John or Maggie.

SAFE FAMILIES

Lauren Jewhurst, Community Volunteer Manager

Hello from Safe Families!

We hope this email finds you well, having had a good summer. The heatwave days seem a long time ago now that the more autumnal temperatures are setting in! We have a number of things to update you with so please do have a look and put some dates in your diary if you'd like to join us.

Trauma Informed Practice Training

We're so excited to let you know that we are running 3 Trauma Informed Practice Training sessions this Autumn. All welcome to join. The training will explore:

1. The different kinds of trauma children may experience
2. The impact of these experiences on brain development and behaviour
3. Parenting strategies – useful for volunteering with families
4. The impact of caring on parent/carer's mental health and well-being

For dates and more details see <https://my.safefamilies.uk/training/>

Advent Reflections

A reflective trail, offering churches a chance to provide a warm and welcoming space for people to spend time in rest and reflection during the Advent period. We can drop in the necessary materials for you to set up as you wish, or we can come and man the space for you. If you are interested in finding out more please contact us.

Good News Story

We've are currently helping a mum who is undergoing quite gruelling treatment for cancer. She is a single mum, with 2 young children, and no family nearby to help her. She is facing life alone, and it's hard for her to work on getting well and recover from her treatment with no support and 2 children to look after.

At Safe Families we were able to provide her with a Family Friend who contacts her every week, brings her treats when she's feeling rotten and takes her out for coffee. This family friend has also been able to step in to do practical things like school runs and vet appointments when mum is feeling too poorly to cope.

In addition to this, we've also been able to find a Host Family for the children, another volunteer to take them out for the day and bring them to their house for a sleepover so that mum can have the space and time she needs to recover from gruelling chemotherapy without worrying about the children.

This mum has tried to make her garden a practical, safe and fun space for the family to use, so some of our Resource Friends have been round to assemble a washing line, trampoline and swing set. We've sourced a new bed and mattress for her, so that she can be comfortable as she rests.

This is a wonderful example of how Safe Families can help families in different ways – practically and emotionally – and we cannot do it without your support, so thank you!

Please do get in touch if you'd like to chat to us about anything in this update, or if you'd just like to catch up for a coffee and a chat we'd love to meet up with you.

God bless

Lauren and Dawn

The Rhythm of Hope

Worton Hall, Oxfordshire

January 28th, 9:00am

This retreat day is aimed at couples who are facing infertility or unwanted childlessness for a physical or medical reason, rather than those who have tragically lost children through bereavement.

The vision for the day is that couples or individuals come and be encouraged to journey well, regardless of the outcome. Our hope and prayer is that they will feel able to come as they are, in whatever state that is, and to hear from God. Obviously these are incredibly sensitive topics, so please be assured that the day will be discrete, private and confidential. The hope is, that there will be something helpful and encouraging for everyone, and a reassurance you are certainly not alone.

Recycling at Trinity

Stamps: We collect all used postage stamps; international stamps from other countries are especially appreciated. Tear off just the stamp, leaving about 1cm of paper around the stamp.

Place them in the pink box at the back of the church.

Used inkjet printer cartridges: We can recycle the following brands only - Canon, Dell, HP, Lexmark, Neopost and Samsung. Only the cartridge is needed, none of the other packaging.

Crisp packets: We collect these as well as sweet and chocolate wrappers, and clean food packets (such as pasta or rice bags) for recycling. All recycling needs to be clean and dry.

Writing instruments: Any brand of pen, felt tip, highlighter, marker, correction fluid pot, correction tape, mechanical pencil and eraser pen regardless of their composition. Please note no glue sticks, wooden pencils, chalk, glue sticks, erasers, rulers or other cutting objects that could disturb the recycling process.

SEND A COW BECOMES RIPPLE EFFECT

“When I sent cows to Uganda back in 1988, I never anticipated what the charity would become or the number of people it would help. We didn’t realise the impact of surplus produce sales would enable so many children to access quality education, families live in much improved housing, women attain equal opportunity and previously hopeless farmers become teachers and leaders of positive change. Our new name reflects this immense multiplication impact and will enable us to reach even more people with life-changing skills, training and knowledge.” David Bragg Founding Farmer

To reach our goal of working with 5 million more people by 2030, we need to build awareness about our expert development work with farming families and have a name to demonstrate this effectiveness. That’s why we’ve changed our name to Ripple Effect, reflecting how the benefits of our work multiply across African communities and from generation to generation.

From May 2022, the way we look and talk is going to be bolder - demonstrating our impact on fighting hunger and poverty more effectively so more supporters join our family of change makers. Our new name will emphasise that the impact of our work is always felt far beyond where it starts.

Find out more on our website at <https://rippleeffect.org/>

CHURCH GIVING

If you would like to support the work of Holy Trinity via donation or standing order, your gift would be very gratefully received. To keep the church running for Sunday Services, current costs are around £13,250 per month. With the addition of Children and Youth work, the Debt Centre and the Parish Nurse, the cost is just over £18,000 a month in total.
